Four of Them Testify to Leonard's Condition.

DO NOT THINK HIM INSANE

How Have They Detected Evidence of Same Disease Alleged—Yesterday's Trial of the Leonard Case.

Dr. DeCamp was again placed on the stand in the Leonard case yesterday morning and the cross-examination by Attorney Wandy was continued. Since he was on the stand last, witness had consulted two authorities on the subject of paresis, and had found that the disease was contagious, but that he could find no authority that the disease affected the spinal column as it had in Fred's case. There was evidence that the spinal cord became diseased, but not to the extent of hardening. Loss of memory, delusions and uncleanliness are symptoms of insanity. Witnesses did not remember of reading that an insane person might go into court and answer questions intelligently, although some do. Said that persons suffering from paresis do not transact routine business with the engineers of purpose which characterizes the same.

Not Necessarily Insane. On redirect by Mr. McGarry, witness stated that he did not think the idea of an iceless refrigerator was an insane idea. Witness said that in the signatures he had seen Fred make, he noticed no special irregularity. He did not consider him a good writer, but did not know that he ever was. A note written by Fred Leonard was produced and admitted in evidence. Witness stated that in his judgment Fred was competent to care for himself and conduct his own business. On recross examination he stated that he had seen no proof of monomania, not even in Fred's testimony.

Dr. E. H. Cummings was the next witness to give expert testimony. He has been a practicing physician thirty years and had known Fred Leonard some years; was called upon to examine Fred mentally and physically on the 10th or 12th of last month, and had seen him almost every day since. Witness found from his examination that Fred was suffering from paresis of the left extremities and he thought the disease curable; thought he could see a marked change during the past month; that daily massage treatments and plenty of outdoor exercise would effect a cure. Witness thought that Fred Leonard was sane and competent enough to care for himself and conduct his own business.

On being cross-examined witness stated that it would show loss of memory if Fred had gone to Europe in January and had forgotten it. Also thought that if there was any affection of the brain it would have made itself apparent while witness was on the stand. A man suffering from nervous disease might in the course of time, under the strain of cross-examination, display great lack of memory without being insane.

In the Afternoon. At the afternoon session the papers in the valuable envelope were read and offered in evidence. Dr. Cummings was again on the stand. He did not think that Fred's having placed such value on that package was a sign of insanity. Because Fred had lost his memory, it was not a sign of insanity. Fred had been very despondent for two years, and his mind was weakened by the effects of alcoholic stimulants. On recross he stated that Fred was not at present living under the influence of alcoholic insanity. Fred's putting such large figures on his wealth was not necessarily a delusion, as Fred had stated that he was selling the real-estate line. The alcohol causes the tissues of the blood vessels of the brain to weaken and finally, in some cases, rupturing the vessels. If the rupture took place before Fred became a drinking man it would produce permanent paresis.

Dr. Vollmer was the next witness called. Had studied all kinds of medical science. Had met Fred on the 7th of last month. Visited him every day until the 17th of the same month. Had examined Fred in regard to his mental and bodily health. Had talked with Fred regarding places in Europe. Fred remembered things very well. Fred had an ailment of the nervous system. Witness thought Fred could be cured by massage treatment, and the witness could not find any evidence of insanity. Witness thought that Fred was competent to manage his property.

On cross-examination by Mr. Smiley he said he thought Fred could be cured by massage. Did not consider that Fred's course in traveling around the country was a wise one. A rupture of the blood vessels of the brain could be caused by a private disease. Paresis could be caused by overwork. A man 25 years old might have paresis from overwork. Had only one patient in his fifteen years of practice who had insanity caused by general paresis. Hadn't asked Fred if he had ever been to Germany more than once. Had talked with him regarding refrigerator. Didn't think a man needed any great knowledge of chemicals to stow upon a great discovery and he didn't think that such a chemical preparation was a scientific impossibility.

Dr. Grover thought likewise.

Dr. Grover was the next witness inited to the box. He had studied up the subject of paresis. Had known Fred Leonard since November 8. Examined Fred by request of Mr. Allen. Had talked with Fred every day since. Had examined his body to determine the extent of his paresis. Also examined Fred's eyes, by which he could tell whether the paresis had its origin in the brain; found his vision normal and no wasting away of the means of vision. Also tested his sense of smell, with chloroform and ammonia; has perfect use of his power of speech. By his examination he found Fred to be suffering with partial paresis. The history of the case points to a possibility of recovery, although the witness was not willing to state that Fred would ever recover the entire use of the parts paralyzed. In the opinion of the witness, marks of private diseases could not be found on Fred's person, if he ever had any such disease. The witness considered Fred sane and capable of taking care of himself and his property. On cross-examination Dr. Grover told of his conversation with Fred regarding his travels around the country, and to different watering places, where he hoped to derive benefit. Dr. Grover gave a review of the practice of hypnotizing patients by physicians.

Court Notes.

The case against F. J. Dettenhaler for selling venison out of season, appealed to the circuit from police court, was taken from the jury yesterday by Judge Grove and a verdict of not guilty was ordered. The proof showed that he bought the venison in season, but offered it for sale after the season closed.

Harry Dixon was acquitted from a charge of stealing $8 from Jacob Shuit in Carmony's road house, on South Division street. Dixon's brother-in-law seemed to be the only material witness against him. The jury looked upon the matter as a family row.

Abie Phillips, sentenced to three months in the Traverse county jail and to pay a fine of $100 for violating the internal revenue laws, has been brought back to be resentenced in the United States court today.

Homer M. Benjamin began suit in the circuit court yesterday to recover $300 for Helen Shepard.

BOYS' CLOTHING!
CHILDREN'S CLOTHING!

UNLOADING SALE

Our Boys' and Children's Clothing has not sold as fast as it should have done in this stock reducing sale—we don't know why, but it's a fact anyhow. Now, we're not going to show any partiality to any of our departments. We ought to sell as much in our Boys' Department as in our Men's Department proportionately, and we're just as much overloaded there as elsewhere. Prices such as we make this week will even things up, at least. If the boys need clothes now—if you're thinking of Christmas presents—this sale will give you ideas.

200 fine Children's Suits, sizes 4 to 12 years, all of 'em all wool, worth $5, $6, $7 and $8. All of them new, stylish goods, but all of them broken in size—this week your choice $3.85.
In our Boys' Suits, sizes 14 to 16 years, we've made great reductions. Fashionable, well made suits in Cambric, Worsted and Cheviots at $4, $5, $6, $7, $8, $10, $12, worth a great deal more.
100 finest Children's Overcoats, stylishly made from all wool Kersey, Meltons and Fancy Cheviots and Rough Cloth, worth $6, $7.50, $8 and $10—this week your choice $4.85.
We've a large table stacked high with Boys' Undershirts, sizes 14 to 16 years. Big comfortable coats, extra long with deep collars. They'll make fast this week with low prices we make on them, $5, $6, $7, $8.50, $10, $12, and no store in town can come near them in value.

Other stores MIGHT sell boys' clothing as cheap—but they DON'T.
